

Supplementary file 5 Visual aid for interviews with women in the qualitative study in 6B

The following two flowcharts are possible designs for a clinical trial of management of an impacted fetal head. The designs have been derived from the MIDAS scoping study which has involved collecting data on current practice and the views of parents, midwives, obstetricians, neonatologists and obstetric anaesthetists. There are two alternative designs; the only difference are the techniques to manage the impacted fetal head

