Public involvement in research: assessing impact through a realist evaluation

Resource Diary for Patient Research Partner

This resource diary will help us to find out how much it costs you to be a patient research partner in this research project (name of project here).

We wish to ask about a two week period. We wish to know how much money and time were spent by you in being a patient research partner on the project.

It may be helpful to complete this resource diary on a daily basis, however, if this is not possible and you can't remember the exact details then please just give us your best guess. If there has been no patient research partner activity during this period, then please write 'none' on each day.

The information that you provide will be completely confidential.

If you have a problem in answering any question please telephone the Study Office on XXXXX. Please return the resource diary in the enclosed pre-paid envelope.
