

C

CERTAIN

FOR SURE

You will have episodes of throbbing pain across the front of your head and you will feel sick and may occasionally BE sick. You will feel like you want to lie still in a darkened room.

During the next 3 months you will suffer an episode of head pain and sickness every couple of weeks, with each episode lasting between 8 hours and 2 days.

These episodes will interfere with many of your usual activities.

After these 3 months you return to your current health with no further effects from this illness.

UNCERTAIN

Your current state of health with no effects of this illness.

You will have episodes of throbbing pain across the front of your head and you will feel sick and may occasionally BE sick. You will feel like you want to lie still in a darkened room.

During the next 12 months you will suffer an episode of head pain and sickness every couple of weeks, with each episode lasting between 8 hours and 2 days.

These episodes will interfere with many of your usual activities.

After these 12 months you return to your current health with no further effects from this illness.

D

CERTAIN

FOR SURE

You will have episodes of throbbing pain across the front of your head and you will feel sick and may occasionally BE sick. You will feel like you want to lie still in a darkened room.

During the next 12 months you will suffer an episode of head pain and sickness every couple of weeks, with each episode lasting between 8 hours and 2 days.

These episodes will interfere with many of your usual activities.

After these 12 months you return to your current health with no further effects from this illness.

UNCERTAIN

Your current state of health with no effects of this illness.

Every couple of weeks for the rest of your life you will have episodes of throbbing pain across the front of the head and you will feel sick and may occasionally BE sick. You will feel like you want to lie still in a darkened room.

Each episode lasting between 8 hours and 2 days, and will interfere with many of your usual activities.

E

CERTAIN

FOR SURE

Every couple of weeks for the rest of your life you will have episodes of throbbing pain across the front of the head and you will feel sick and may occasionally BE sick. You will feel like you want to lie still in a darkened room.

Each episode lasting between 8 hours and 2 days, and will interfere with many of your usual activities.

UNCERTAIN

Your current state of health with no effects of this illness.

Immediate death

F

CERTAIN

FOR SURE

For the first 12 months after the treatment starts, you will continue in your current state of health. But after 12 months the treatment will stop being effective.

From then on, every couple of weeks for the rest of your life you will have episodes of throbbing pain across the front of the head and you will feel sick and may occasionally BE sick. You will feel like you want to lie still in a darkened room.

Each episode lasting between 8 hours and 2 days, and will interfere with many of your usual activities.

UNCERTAIN

Your current state of health with no effects of this illness.

Starting now, every couple of weeks for the rest of your life you will have episodes of throbbing pain across the front of the head and you will feel sick and may occasionally BE sick. You will feel like you want to lie still in a darkened room.

Each episode lasting between 8 hours and 2 days, and will interfere with many of your usual activities.